

Republican Platform Ready For Approval

Threatened Opposition Collapses

by Francis M. LeMay
Philadelphia, June 22—(AP)—All threats of a serious convention floor battle on the GOP foreign policy stand—cold shouldering isolationism and pledging American leadership toward world peace—apparently collapsed tonight.

There were these fast Republican platform developments:

1. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) hailed the foreign plank as "magnificent."
2. Senator Brooks (R-Ill.), who battled in the platform committee last night to change some of the strong internationalist language of the foreign plank, told reporters tonight there will be no convention fight by him or other critics of the platform proposals.
3. GOP national chairman Carroll Reece predicted "harmonious action" on the platform at the convention tomorrow.

The platform writers struck out preliminary draft language calling for United Nations' control of atomic energy. Brooks, a resolutions committee member, led the fight. "I did not succeed in having all my views accepted," he said. "But I accept it (the platform) as the best I could get."

Ask Curb On UN Veto

The internationalist plank calls for curbing the big power veto and setting up a world police force under the U.N. charter.

Platform chairman Henry Cabot Lodge said the defense plank, closely related to foreign policy, is a strong and clear commitment for building up the nation's armed forces.

Vandenberg, one of the authors of America's bipartisan foreign policy and a possible GOP presidential nominee, stamped his approval on the foreign plank in a statement saying:

"I am happy beyond words to express my satisfaction with our sturdy pledge to peace with justice through collective security and progressive international cooperation."

Labor Groups Protest

But rumblings of protest developed quickly on the GOP labor plank which may sway many thousands of votes one way or another in November.

American Federation of Labor officials in Washington declared: "The labor plank is totally unsatisfactory. It fails to deal with the high cost of living and fails to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley act."

The labor plank pledges "continuing study to improve labor-management legislation in the light of experience and changing conditions." It says the right to strike "is subordinate only to paramount considerations of public health and safety."

Call Labor Plank "Weak"

In Cleveland, this plank was described as "weak and vacillating" by A. P. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. "Nothing but repeal of the Taft-Hartley act will restore confidence of the workers in the Republican party," said Whitney, who has announced his support of President Truman for reelection.

The "civil rights" plank called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish poll taxes. It stands for wiping out racial segregation in the army and the right of every individual to "work and advance in life" regardless of race and color.

No FEPC Provision

The rights plank did not say specifically that it stands for a fair employment practices commission (FEPC). Language in the preliminary platform draft directly favoring FEPC was stricken out.

The 2,400 word platform—believed to be the shortest in the party's history—was approved by the 104-member resolutions committee after an uproarious session on the foreign plank and domestic policy as well. It goes to the full convention tomorrow for ratification.

STEERING WHEEL ON CAR MISSING; DRIVER ARRESTED

Los Angeles, June 22—(AP)—Motorcycle officer C. D. Barkley said he overtook Everett Clyde Miller, driving over 50 miles an hour without a steering wheel.

After pursuing the statutes, Barkley decided that constituted operating an unsafe vehicle. He also charged Miller with speeding, faulty headlights, defective windshield wipers, and placing a hand on the windshield, no registration and failing to observe a stop signal.

About that steering wheel... Barkley said the youth was using a pair of pliers to guide the car.

Lewis, Operators Retire; Meet Again This Morning

Washington, June 22—(AP)—John L. Lewis and soft coal operators broke up a negotiating session tonight without comment. They set another meeting tomorrow morning (8 a.m. CST).

The lack of comment from either side on the way the talks went may indicate progress. At least the negotiators were smiling when they left and there was no sign of a new break in the talks.

Lewis, the first to leave, referred newsmen to coal operator spokesman Charles O'Neill.

O'Neill then said: "We'll meet again tomorrow."

Suggested By Board

The renewed negotiations had been suggested by a presidential inquiry board earlier in the day. Both sides told the board they were willing to resume talks and the board suggested they try for an agreement before the board makes its report to the White House late tomorrow.

The conferences were resumed just eight days before the present work agreement ends.

Negro Leader Claims GOP Broke Promises

Kansas City, June 22—(AP)—A Negro leader, Walter White, warned the Republican party today that voters of his race would view "with skepticism" civil rights planks of its national platform.

White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the "skepticism" was the result of the Republicans' failure to keep their 1944 election promises.

Here for the opening of the association's thirty-ninth annual conference, White in an interview said the Republican party in 1944 adopted a strong civil rights platform.

"They came into power in 1946 with majorities in both Houses of Congress," he added. "And they did absolutely nothing to fulfill their pledges."

"The Wallace crowd has hopes for the Negro vote but Negroes are not going to bolt lock, stock and barrel to a third party because they know a third party in the race simply results in an even more conservative group being elected than that now in power."

White came here from Philadelphia where he talked to the Republican convention platform committee. He explained he urged not only the adoption but the fulfillment of a civil rights program, including anti-lynching legislation, the institution of a fair employment practice committee, abolition of segregation in the armed forces and elimination of the poll tax.

He said the N.A.A.C.P. neither would endorse nor oppose any party, nor would it attempt to officially set a course for Negroes in individual political contests.

James G. McDonald Will Head U.S. Israel Mission

Washington, June 22—(AP)—President Truman tonight announced the exchange of diplomatic missions between this government and the Provisional Government of Israel.

Mr. Truman appointed James G. McDonald of New York to serve as special representative of the United States in heading the mission to the new Jewish government.

Ellis Epstein has been designated by Israel, the White House statement said, as its special representative in the United States and head of the Israeli mission.

McDonald, 61, was a member of the Anglo-American commission of inquiry on Palestine in 1946, and is a trustee of the Twentieth Century Fund.

Born in Coldwater, Ohio, McDonald now lives at Bronxville, N. Y. He is a graduate of Indiana University, Harvard and Tufts College.

For 14 years beginning in 1919 he was chairman of the board of the Foreign Policy Association, Inc. He served as high commissioner for Jewish and other refugees coming from Germany between 1933 and 1935. McDonald was a member of the New York Times editorial staff for two years thereafter, and in 1942-44 was news analyst and adviser on postwar relations to the Blue network.

HODGE RETURNS

Seoul, June 22—(AP)—U. S. Gen. John R. Hodge, whose sudden flight to Tokyo roused much speculation, returned today and said he just had been visiting at General MacArthur's headquarters.

The U. S. occupation commander for southern Korea declined to discuss his Tokyo meetings, but said no pressing matter inspired his trip.

Emperor Nero, who was nearsighted, used a concave mirror to get a better view of the gladiatorial combats.

GOP Platform Highlights

Philadelphia, June 22—(AP)—Here are the highlights of the platform approved by the resolutions committee of the Republican national convention for action by the convention itself tomorrow:

"Our foreign policy is dedicated to preserving a free America in a free world of free men... Prudently conserving our own resources, we shall cooperate on a self-help basis with other peace-loving nations... We believe in collective security... The United Nations should progressively establish international law, be freed of any veto in the peaceful settlement of international disputes, and be provided with the armed forces contemplated by the charter."

"The maintenance of armed services for air, land and sea to a degree which will insure our national security... recognizing the American principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country."

"Continuation of efforts... to reduce the enormous burden of taxation... withdrawal or reduction of taxes which can best be administered by local governments, with particular consideration of excise and inheritance taxes."

"Small business... must be encouraged through aggressive anti-monopoly action, elimination of unnecessary controls, protection against discrimination, correction of tax abuses, and limitation of competition by governmental organizations."

"A long-term program in the interest of agriculture and consumer... an accelerated program of sounder soil conservation; effective protection of reasonable market prices through flexible support prices, commodity loans, marketing agreements... encouragement of family-sized farms... support of the principle of bona fide farmer."

Head Of Puritan Church Involved In Contest Suit

Chicago, June 22—(AP)—Harrison Parker, head of the Puritan church, the Church of America, today was given 15 days to file a brief in his effort to stop the postoffice from holding up church contest mail.

The church office is at 4 West Burlington avenue in suburban LaGrange.

On April 7 Parker sued the LaGrange postmaster, Charles W. Parker, asking that he be restrained from enforcing a postal order issued against Parker the day before.

The order authorized the postmaster to stamp all mail sent by the church "fraudulent" and return it to the sender. Parker's suit contended the order violated the first amendment to the constitution providing for freedom of worship.

Today the government asked federal Judge Michael K. Igoe to dismiss the suit. The court gave Parker 15 days to file the brief.

A government brief supporting the request for dismissal alleged that Parker solicited donations for a puzzle contest, the proceeds to go toward building a new Puritan meeting house.

The brief added that contestants were deceived into thinking they would win prizes to $2,000 and that the church is exclusively Parker's mail order enterprise.

The LaGrange postoffice is holding 700,000 pieces of mail sent out by Parker.

CHAMPAIGN FLIER KILLED

Norfolk, Va., June 22—(AP)—Lt. (jg) Everett Winfield Herman, USN, 25, was killed when his fighter plane crashed in Princess Anne county yesterday. He was the son of Mrs. Charles E. Herman, 210 E. Army avenue, Champaign, Ill.

MISSISSIPPI AGAINST TRUMAN

Jackson, Miss., June 22—(AP)—Mississippi Democrats adopted resolutions today which leaders said are intended to obligate the state's delegates to walk out of the national party convention if President Truman is nominated.

Convention Program

Senator Martin Quits Race; Favors Dewey

Reds Announce Currency Reform For East Germany

Berlin, June 22—(AP)—The Soviet military administration announced tonight currency reform for eastern Germany and Berlin.

A letter to the mayor of Berlin said the reform would become effective June 24.

The Soviet announcement was made unilaterally and without the consent of the United States, Britain and France as far as Berlin was concerned. It apparently ignored four-power discussions begun earlier today on the subject of a currency reform compromise for Berlin.

Ask British Cooperation

A letter made public tonight by the Soviet news agency from Marshall Vasily D. Sokolovsky, the Russian commander in Germany, to the British commander, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, said it was hoped the British would not try to stop the reform in its sector of Berlin.

Berlin is governed by the four powers. Letters were sent to the western powers less than two hours after the first high level conference among the four powers in more than three months broke up without agreement on a reform compromise.

National Guard Quota To Be Filled In 1948

Washington, June 22—(AP)—The national guard, indirect beneficiary of the new draft program, is expected to be full up with volunteers by the end of this month and then stop recruiting for a year.

Officials, studying preliminary reports from several states on the first full day of volunteering after Congress passed the selective service bill, made that estimate today.

There were only between 90,000 and 100,000 vacancies in the national guard when the bill was voted Saturday.

Guardsmen Exempt From Draft

Preliminary reports from several states today indicate that this total will soon be reached by volunteers 19 through 25 who will be subject to induction into the armed services.

National guardsmen and members of organized reserves are draft-exempt. The guard is authorized to have 300,000 men in ground and 41,000 in air units by June 30, 1949. Current ground strength is 249,900.

Some state guard quotas are nearly full. Illinois has a quota of 14,911; a current strength of more than 13,000; Alabama has a quota of 8,920; a present strength of 7,500; Oregon 2,936 quota, 2,300 present; Texas 13,059 quota, present strength 10,000.

Not An "Escape Hatch"

Major General Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the National Guard Bureau, denied vigorously that the national guard is an "escape hatch" for those seeking to avoid 21 months of service in the regular army under the draft.

He told reporters this idea was wrong on several counts, including: 1. The enlistment period in the guard is three years instead of 21 months.

"First To Be Called"

2. If there is a shooting war, the guard is no place for people who don't want to be shot at. The national guard "always has been the backbone of civilian components in national defense and they are the first to be called into action."

3. Even before the draft bill was passed, the guard had exceeded any previous peacetime strength and was rapidly approaching the maximum size possible under funds presently allotted to it.

"We are going to pick the men," Cramer said, "and if we find we have men not up to standard they will be released."

OK Bill Protecting Fish And Wildlife

Washington, June 22—(AP)—Fish and wildlife enthusiasts won a round today when President Truman signed a bill designed to prevent drastic lowering of pools in the Upper Mississippi River valley.

The army engineers opposed the measure by Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.). It directs them to give full recognition to the needs of fish and wildlife in raising or lowering pool levels behind a series of dams on the river between Rock Island, Ill., and Minneapolis.

Anderson told a reporter that during the war years "thousands of tons of fish were killed" when some of the pools were drained to provide additional water downstream.

101-YEAR-OLD MAN MISSING

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 22—(AP)—A 101-year-old man was reported missing today.

"Uncle Joe" Vandergrift left his home early Monday and hasn't been seen since, his daughter, Mrs. Fred C. Whither, told police.

"He gets around good, and that's just the trouble," she said.

Dewey Supporters Claim Martin Adds Missouri Strength

Philadelphia, June 22—(AP)—Dewey supporters claimed big gains in the Missouri Republican delegation tonight as a result of Senator Edward Martin's decision to support the New Yorker for the presidential nomination.

Grover Dalton of Poplar Bluff, Republican state chairman, interpreted the Martin development as assuring 26 of Missouri's 33 votes for Dewey.

Mrs. Frances O'Meara, national committeewoman, also saw it as a big boost for the Dewey forces.

But all of the delegates did not agree.

Several said they thought Martin's swing would cause little change in Dewey's Missouri strength, which had been established at about 18 votes on the first ballot.

As long as they are tattooed, Taftian natives who take off their clothes are not immodest.

Taft-Stassen Alliance Rumored

by Douglas B. Cornell
Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 22—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey broke through the "favorite son" barrier at the Republican convention tonight and claimed a commanding lead in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

But efforts were reported under way to arrange a meeting between Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen to combine their campaigns in a stop-Dewey drive.

Dewey's stock soared when Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania stepped out of the presidential race and announced he would take as many as possible of Pennsylvania's 73-member delegation into the Dewey camp.

Reports of a possible Taft-Stassen alliance came from sources close to both men several hours later although both candidates had scoffed at the effect of the Dewey-Martin combination on their own chances.

These sources said Taft and Stassen might meet during the night in an effort to offset Martin's announcement that he would step aside as Pennsylvania's first-ballot choice and nominate Dewey himself.

Nominations Begin Tomorrow

Tonight's fast-breaking developments came as the convention itself, still roaring confidence that any candidate it picks will be elected to the White House in November, got ready to start nominations tomorrow.

Dewey's forces arranged for their man's name to be placed in nomination first. Taft was to be second man nominated, according to present plans.

At afternoon and evening sessions, delegates and spectators got to hear more orators drum away at the Democrats.

Speakers Slash Demos

Former President Herbert Hoover, Speaker Joseph W. Martin and Representative Katherine St. George of New York went at it in turn.

The trouble at home, Hoover said, is not obvious communists but "fuzzy minded people" living in a half-way house to totalitarianism.

He said the world crisis is deeper than some may think and it is up to the Republican party to lead the way out.

Martin took over the gavel as permanent chairman of the convention for the third time in a row. He said administration "fumbling and bumbling" on the diplomatic front made it necessary to spend a lot on arms.

"Price Of Faltering Leadership"

"That," he said, "is the price of faltering leadership in the White House."

Mrs. St. George took the line that the American people and the women in particular, "are going to turn the war party out and return to the Republican ideal of peace with honor."

The teaming up of Dewey and Senator Martin was the biggest coup yet of this 24th get-together of the Republican party. How much it meant in actual votes was a matter of uncertainty and controversy. But the psychological effect could not be overlooked.

Other Candidates Stunned

Other would-be candidates apparently were stunned for a moment. Then they came charging back.

Senator Taft, who was killed in there battling and far from killed. His forces rallied quickly in an attempt to bolster wavering delegations against the psychological impact of the Dewey-Martin maneuver.

Stassen of Minnesota interpreted the Dewey move as one of "desperation." He said it would help Stassen.

Supporters of dark horse Arthur H. Vandenberg claimed it would help the Michigan senator.

To Test Sterling Parking Ordinance

Sterling, Ill., June 22—(AP)—City Attorney L. E. Ellison said today he will appeal a recent five-cent parking meter fine in a test of a city ordinance regulating parking in meter areas.

The case to be appealed was tried a week ago in the Justice of the Peace court of R. W. E. Mitchell. Justice Mitchell fined Robert Lendman five cents for overtime parking and remitted the fine and costs.

July 3 Is Last Day To Enter Soap Box Derby

July 3 has been set as the deadline date for entering the 1948 All-American Soap Box Derby in this city. Since the period of registration is drawing to a close, boys planning to enter the race are urged to file their applications as soon as possible.

Registration is being conducted daily at the Cornbelt Chevrolet company, co-sponsor of the race together with the Journal Courier. The race, which will run here on Sunday, July 18, is being staged by the Exchange club.

A member of the Exchange club will be appointed to each boy to supervise the construction of his racer. The actual work on the car is to be done by the boy himself and free instruction books are provided at the time of registration.

Wheel sets for the racers are still available, both at the Cornbelt Chevrolet company and the B. F. Goodrich store on S. Main street. The wheels are purchased by the boy's sponsor.

Should any boy hesitate to enter the race for lack of a sponsor, he is again reminded that sponsors will be furnished.

The official Derby plaque, which will be awarded to the winner, is now on display at the Cornbelt Chevrolet company. The other prizes are also on display, as are the winning car of the 1947 race, which was driven by Lawrence Crawford, and of the 1946 race, which was driven by Jimmy Woods.

Already 47 boys are entered in the race. Latest entries are Kenneth Walker, car 46, sponsored by Reynold Radio Service, and Tommy Ring, car 47, sponsored by Homer Massey.

Overtime Parking To Draw Stiffer Penalty

The nickel penalty for overtime parking in the business district where meters are in use probably is nearing an end. Fines ranging from $1 upward will be substituted for the lesser reminder for each violator if suggestions made by councilmen Monday night are followed up.

Alderman Kelly reported that a number of drivers have ignored the tickets attached to their cars by traffic officers. Some of these are non-residents, but a check of license numbers showed that quite a few Jacksonville residents have deliberately evaded the summons.

Councilmen were agreed that enforcement should be tightened. Under the present plan now in effect, first offenders of overtime parking

Phil Masi Regains Lead For Catcher In All-Star Poll

Chicago, June 22.—(P)—Phil Masi of Boston today regained the lead over New York's Walker Cooper for the National League catcher in the closest developing race for positions in the All-Star baseball poll.

Masi collected 29,576 votes, a 2-454 advantage over the Giants' receiver in the latest balloting by fans throughout the country to select the starting lineups for the classic in St. Louis July 13.

Masi led all National League catchers in opening returns June 17, but Cooper went ahead with heavy support from all sections although he has been sidelined with injuries.

Lou Boudreau, manager-shortstop of the Cleveland Indians, continued as the poll's highest individual vote-getter with 35,156. He was followed by center-fielder Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees with 34,268 and leftfielder Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox with 33,176.

New York, June 22.—(P)—A steady drizzle of rain and Jersey Walcott money fell on New York Tuesday as the odds on Joe Louis slipped to 5 to 12 for his 25th and last—maybe—heavyweight title defense.

The weatherman, usually cooperative with Uncle Mike Jacobs' ventures, took a dim view of the future. He predicted considerable cloudiness Wednesday with scattered showers and thundershowers throughout a warm, humid day. There was

ADVANCE IN GRAIN FUTURES REGISTERED, WHEAT HIGHER

Chicago, June 22.—(P)—Advances were registered in the grain futures pit at the board of trade today. Wheat was higher on commission house buying said to reflect sales of cash wheat to the government. Unwanted rain fell in the winter wheat section.

When lack of selling pressure developed in feed grains in the face of good rains, prices advanced on strength borrowed from wheat. Other factors included firm cash premiums, and short covering in corn. Corn bookings were placed around 6,000 bushels.

Receipts were: wheat 53 cars, corn 78, oats 15 and soybeans 4. At the finish wheat was 11 to 21 higher than the previous close, July 2.32-1, corn was 1 cent to 2 1/2 higher, July 23.21-1, oats were 1 to 1 cent higher, July 23.1-1, beans were 3 to 6 cents lower, July 14.14.

New York Stock Market

New York, June 22.—(P)—Railroad issues steamed far in front of the stock market today.

Leading carrier stocks ran ahead 1 to 2 points and more while the balance of the market bounced around in a narrow price range. Demand for the carriers helped steady other groups but there was no decisive price movement.

Volume picked up late in the session as the buying pace quickened. Total for the day was at the rate of about 1,500,000 shares.

Nickle Plate highballed in front of rail stocks with a 5-point gain at one time. Also in demand at higher prices were St. Paul, Illinois Central and Northern Pacific.

Several of the oils that did so well yesterday maintained their momentum but at a slower pace. Richfield Oil, Panhandle Producing and Marsac Oil all improved.

Standard Oil (N.J.) and Gulf lagged, along with Douglas Aircraft, Owens-Illinois and Distillers Corp. Seagrants.

Rails generally had the benefit of favorable earnings reports, prospects of excellent business for months to come, and the possibility of a further hike in freight and passenger rates.

Big Nine Whips Coast Tracksters For Third Victory

Evanson, Ill., June 22.—(P)—The Big Nine swept to 12 firsts and a tie for another to wallop the Pacific Coast Conference 92-1 to 39-1 tonight and win its third straight dual track meet title in the 8-year series.

One world record and a meet mark were bested by the western conference track men performing before a crowd of 6,000 in Northwestern's Dwyer stadium.

The 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay team scampers the distance in 15.3 the accepted world mark as well as the American collegiate record is 58.6 by Texas in 1940.

Only other record was set by Northwestern's Bill Porter in the 120-yard high hurdles. His time was 13.9, compared with a meet record of 14 flat by Ohio State's Bob Wright in 1942. Porter was the only double winner. He also took the 220-yard high hurdles in 23.1, far off record time.

Southern California's speedster, Peil-Mel Patton, ran only in the 440-yard sprint relay, which was won by the Big Nine. He said his legs "tightened up" preventing him from running in the 220-yard dash which Indiana's Chuck Peterson won in 21.6.

Zoldak Wins In First Cleveland Appearance

Cleveland, June 22.—(P)—Sam Zoldak pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday in his first appearance in a Cleveland uniform since his recent acquisition from the St. Louis Browns.

Zoldak gave up eight hits and needed help from Russ Christopher in the ninth. Christopher came to Zoldak's rescue with two out and got Johnny Lindell to pop to Joe Gordon on his first pitch to end the game.

Joe DiMaggio collected three of the hits yielded by Zoldak including his 16th homer of the season which enabled him to tie Cleveland's Ken Keltner for the league leadership in that department of play. It was DiMaggio's fifth four-bagger in three days.

XXXVI

EVEN the night when she had watched beside Mrs. Blake had not been more terrifying than this night as she waited for Tom's return from the hospital. Would they allow him to see the girl, and would she speak?

Jessica went upstairs to the darkened room where Mrs. Blake lay in a stupor, neither asleep nor waking; whether unconscious or aware of anything which went on around her, no one knew.

The house was deathly still and cold. Jessica went into her own room and put a robe over her shoulders. She tucked the blanket closer about Betsy's sleeping figure. She was restless, unnerfed, as she moved from her own room to the sickroom and back again, then stood listening at the head of the stairs for a step on the porch outside. A knock on the outer door brought her down the staircase in a rush.

"Who is it?" she demanded.

"Doris," Doris pushed inside, bringing a dash of cold air and sleepy snow with her. She pulled off the scarf which covered her hair and loosened her coat. "Lord, what a night!"

Doris followed Jessica into the living room and they sat down on the davenport together. "I wanted to talk to you about Lucy," Doris said.

"I've seen her."

Suddenly there was no doubt in her mind. Had there ever been any doubt that the girl downtown was Lucy? Like Tom, she didn't want to acknowledge the identity of that girl who lay disgraced and disfigured, and ready to deny her identity to those who loved her.

SHE told Doris what she had done. Her meeting with David, her decision to visit the hospital—her belief that the girl was Lucy.

"Probably David Gregory knows," said Doris slowly.

"David? How could he know?"

"He and Hugh Linton are just like that." She twined two fingers. "Men don't look at affairs like women do and I imagine Linton needed someone to help him out of a bad mess, although he did pretty well, at that. He started a fund at the plant for the victims of the fire. He said he would finance personally whatever plastic surgery might be needed. Lucy, again, I've heard of no one else as badly injured."

"And you believe that David knew the identity of the girl?"

"Why not? He's in Linton's confidence in everything else. Lucy worked in the same office. It would be strange if he didn't know, wouldn't it?"

Doris hesitated. "I feel sorry for Tom," she said. "I don't see how he will manage if he has two helpless women to take care of. Do you?"

"Why should I be responsible for Lucy's mistakes?" demanded Jessica.

"You aren't exactly blameless, are you?" said Doris bluntly. "You helped to give Lucy ideas. Probably Hugh Linton worked on her all the time. Then—" she hesitated—"then you showed her that a marriage vow meant little."

"Lucy never paid any attention to what I did," denied Jessica.

"How do you know? How can you be sure you didn't influence her?" She influenced you."

"How?"

Doris smiled broadly. "Who else? Was it your mother-in-law who taught you to be unselfish and considerate? You were a little beast when Tom brought you here. I felt sorry for you because you were so lonesome and bewildered, but you had an idea that life was one long honeymoon, didn't you?"

out of a lovely home and left me with a woman who hated me," said Jessica sharply. "If it hadn't been for Lucy—" The name brought her back to the present. "Tom's gone to the hospital," she said.

Doris was silent. Her hazel eyes dark with sympathy. She said, "Whell help him take care of Lucy?"

"Take care of Lucy?"

"It will be weeks before she'll be able to do anything. Then where will she go to find a job? Tom will have to support Lucy and his mother. He'll have to hire help to take care of them."

JESSICA had thought of that herself. She didn't want to think of it. When Doris left, she tried to read, but watched the clock with growing alarm, wondering where Tom could be. She ran upstairs to the sickroom but there was no change. She stood to listen, uncertain whether there was any life in that silent figure on the bed. She went back downstairs and found herself reviewing the months spent in the house where she sat alone tonight except for her baby and the sick woman.

Then she heard steps outside, the crunch of shoes on snow, feet stamping on the mat beside the door, the outside door opening.

Tom came in. He didn't look once in her direction but strode directly toward the stairs. Jessica spoke his name and half rose from her chair, nervous and afraid as she saw his white, tense face, his eyes blank and staring as he turned toward her.

She moved her lips to ask the question but could make no sound, shocked by the agony in Tom's eyes as they met her own.

"Tom!" Her voice died as she spoke his name.

He paused and came back and stood in the living room doorway. He said in a harsh bitter tone, "You were right. The girl is Lucy."

Before she could speak he turned and went slowly upstairs, his step heavy, his blond head bent. A moment later Jessica heard the door of his room close behind him.

Funeral Services For John Rueter Held On Tuesday

Funeral services for John F. Rueter were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Gillham funeral home, with the Rev. Frank Marston officiating.

Music was provided by Mrs. Gaylord Swisher, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Francis Angel.

The floral offerings were in the charge of Aileen Scott, Sara Lee Sabberg, Lena Burneisher, and Beulah Strach.

Pallbearers included James Guyette, Richard Dowsdorth, Charles Reinhardt, Dan Baha, Frank Sullivan, John A. Longergan, Howard Schneider and Harry Mahoney.

Members of the Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 376 were in charge of graveside services conducted in Diamond Grove cemetery. L. B. Turner served as chancellor commander; Harry Bray as vice chancellor; and Frank Bracewell as prelate.

The Taft workers were saying that Green absolutely won't take a vice-presidential nomination in return for Dewey nomination. Green himself made no public statement on any such deal.

Less optimistic Taft backers in the state group put their total at about 40 after all 56 go to Gov. Dwight H. Green on the first ballot.

The Taft delegates are reported to include 25 or 26 from Chicago, four at-large, and the rest from downstate Illinois.

The showdown will come during a second caucus, probably on Thursday.

Most of the Dewey delegates fear a vote for Taft would embarrass them, if not Green's state organization, in the eyes of organized labor—especially the strong Illinois AFL. They consider New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey a better vote-getter in Illinois.

McCormick made a personal plea for Taft today. The editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune wants Taft for president and Harold E. Stassen for vice president.

"We must lead, not follow," he told Illinois delegates.

"We should not play second fiddle to New York and to Dewey."

He spoke as guest of honor at a breakfast given by Senator Brooks (R-Ill.). He denounced the Willie and Dewey GOP nominations of 1940 and 1944, in which he said "conspiracy succeeded."

McCormick said the 1932 GOP defeat was a "debacle" caused by the party's stand then on prohibition. He called for a "Republican rebirth," and said the Illinois delegates should be the "leading obstetricians."

Going into the Dewey camp, he said, would be playing "second fiddle to the state of Aaron Burr." (New York)

He said some people call Philadelphia the City of Brotherly Love but he calls it "the city of Benedict Arnold conspiracy, the city of the 1940 (Willkie) convention, where conspiracy succeeded."

Green, before going out to the Convention Hall as temporary chairman, praised McCormick and said "I think we are a little more alert this time, more than we were in 1940. What happened then is not likely here."

Brooks termed McCormick "courageous and red-blooded."

Elsewhere in the Benjamin Franklin hotel, the state headquarters, Illinois women attending the convention were guests at a breakfast given by Mrs. Werner W. Schroeder, wife of the Illinois national committeeman, and Mrs. Julius Miner, wife of the Chicago judge.

About 135 attended the Brooks dinner. John S. Knight, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, and State Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet spoke briefly.

Ladino Clover Called Tops

Sam Harris, one of the four sons who operate the A. O. Harris farms northeast of Orleans, and Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich are shown inspecting a ladino clover plant in a lush pasture which was seeded last June without a cover crop.

The seed mixture consisted of six pounds of alfalfa, the same amount of broom grass and one and one-half pounds of ladino clover per acre. Ladino, a big relative of the Dutch white clover family, is winning wide acclaim for its vigorous growth, adaptability and high protein content. Protein is the most expensive ingredient in a balanced livestock ration. Samples of ladino tests as high as 24 per cent. In addition it is high in water soluble vitamin content.

The pasture was visited Monday afternoon by more than 60 Morgan county farmers in a tour sponsored by the Morgan County Soil Conservation district.

Sam's brother, Frank, declared that "an improved pasture including ladino clover is the best crop we can raise."

Thirty head of Hereford steers, which weighed 850 in Chicago on April 1, were weighed 40 days later. Average gain was 97 pounds. Salt, water and pasture, and nothing else, were responsible for the gain.

Say Conservation Needed To Protect Soil Fertility

By the Journal Courier Farm Editor

"Many agriculturists in America are literally farming their fields to death. Most of them are doing so in the hope of leaving a good estate to insure the security of their children. The children are more apt to inherit a worn-out farm," declared Warren Brockhouse, well-known Morgan county exponent of conservation farming, at a demonstration held on his farm west of Concord Tuesday.

The inspection of the soil improvement practices on the Brockhouse farm terminated a successful two-day demonstration tour sponsored by the Morgan county Soil Conservation district. Four farms were visited by more than 150 farmers.

Conservationist Ted Pierce and Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich were in charge of the tour. They were assisted by Frank Purnell of Urbana, former Greene county farm adviser now with the extension service.

Work Begun in 1933

At the Brockhouse farm the group viewed a chully drizzle, examined the terraces, sod waterways, contour farming and other elements of conservation which have been installed in the past 15 years on the hilly fields.

"Whether we want to or not, we've got to stop erosion and rebuild fertility," Mr. Brockhouse said. "The history of these fields show remarkable improvement. Erosion occurs whenever water moves soil. It's more apparent on the slopes, but many acres of so-called flat land are eroding at a pace that would astound the casual observer."

Terraces and contour farming designed to keep "the soil at home" were featured at three of the farms inspected. The good rains made walking a little tough, but they also served to emphasize the value of the conservation practices. The visitors could see the difference.

Mr. Brockhouse emphasized the importance of mixed grass and legume pastures. He is especially enthusiastic about the soil holding capacities and the feed value of broom grass. Almost 200 acres of the Brockhouse land has been seeded to a mixture of it and alfalfa this year. A rather sparing application of the mixture is broadcast by an endgate seeder. Eight pounds of alfalfa and five pounds of broom grass has been found sufficient for an acre. After seeding, the soil is firmed with a roller.

There is no need to fear blast in cattle if broom grass makes up 40% of the stand, Mr. Brockhouse asserted.

Two Rotations Used

About half of the land is managed under a rotation of corn, oats and four years of pasture. More level tracts operate under a rotation of corn, soybeans, oats and two years of pasture.

Hillside plows which turn the sod up the slope are used exclusively.

Teachers Selected By School Board Of Virginia High

Virginia—A meeting of the Virginia high school board was held in the office of Dr. Snow, secretary of the group, Monday evening. This has also been the last meeting of the present board, since the proposition for the consolidation of school units comes before the people for a vote this week.

C. T. Albert of near Girard was hired as teacher of agriculture for the coming term to replace E. E. Lamont, who resigned to accept a position with the Morgan county branch of the Illinois Farm Supply company.

B. V. Rosser was named science teacher to replace Miss Cox, who has also resigned. Rosser comes from Missouri and it is understood that his wife has been hired by the elementary school board to teach the third grade.

Should the consolidation become a reality, a new seven-man school board, which will be in charge of grade and high school activities, would have to be elected. Through an oversight, the Sangamon Valley district was not included in the consolidation of the new unit; however they will be permitted to petition into the newly-established unit after it is formed. It is the general opinion of the school authorities that the measure will carry.

Firemen Put Out Blaze At School For Blind Laundry

Firemen were called to the laundry at the Illinois School for the Blind at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon where fire broke out in the drying room. Mops which had been left in the room to dry became ignited from the hot steam pipes which run into the room.

Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, confining the damage to the mops and the drier. Employees of the school had a stream of water trained on the blaze when the fire fighters arrived, thus keeping it under control and facilitating efforts to extinguish it.

Firemen used booster lines fed by a large line to put out the fire.

City Of Brotherly Love Resembles Three-Ring Circus These Days

by a Journal Courier Staff Writer

The best three-ring circus this side of the Atlantic ocean is located at Philadelphia, Pa. The City of Brotherly Love has seen nothing to equal it since the Liberty Bell cracked 111 years ago.

The actors include the big Republicans from the country over. The arch type has a pot belly, smokes a long two-bit cigar, wears a Panama hat, and looks as if he owns half of Podunk center. Wives and kids look like all wives and kids at Republican National conventions.

The accusation will never be made that the convention lacks enthusiasm. Reports are that for sheer pep, this one beats them all. What is that pep like?

Activity Centers At Hotels

The activity centers around three or four hotels, party headquarters for the main contenders. Lobbies therein bustle with indescribable hubbub. Glee clubs from Columbus sing especially-written songs praising Taft. Bands from Minnesota tot horns for Stassen. Gals so pretty that they could make one vote for Joe Stalin hand out Dewey buttons.

Special hip-hip-booy groups chant college yells, spelling out candidates' names. Taft imported a pig-mie elephant for the occasion which attracts more attention than most of the candidates. The elephant, obviously overcome with so much attention, merely makes noise like an elephant.

Arrival Of Taft

Biggest event of the day was the arrival of Senator Taft into the city. A crowd of perhaps 5,000 gathered around his hotel to await his appearance. True to the politician's creed, he managed to be a good 45 minutes late.

All expected a huge Rolls Royce with a couple of chauffeurs; but no, up drove a modest blue Plymouth with Taft doing the driving. This made a big hit with the crowd, most of which probably drove larger models.

Taft stepped out of the car looking like a cold sardine, made a few unheeded statements, and was immediately drowned out by thunderous applause. He went into the small hotel lobby. All 5,000 followed, including the elephant, who was caught in the stampede and hence was pushed in.

"Kept Smiling"

Taft appeared before the cameras, took a drink of iced tea for the benefit of the prohibitionists. They kissed by a pretty girl (for his own benefit), and was hastened into a side room for a press conference.

This got underway in a lovely fashion, several large campaign pictures falling on top of him as he posed for the cameras. Throughout it all he kept smiling.

The reporters began with their questions. All had to admire the man's ability here. He sidestepped the hot ones with the greatest of ease, gave quick answers for the plausible ones, and kept his temper for the off-color ones. He had little sleep, was obviously exhausted, but nevertheless turned in a beautiful performance.

The Best To Come

The best is yet to come. Tomorrow the delegates meet to select the man who will, if current trends continue, be the next president of the United States.

This is the sort of convention which turns out able candidates. This is a free-for-all. This is competition. No small group of men will name the candidate in a smoke-filled room at an early hour in the morning.

Convention headquarters and Independence Hall are seven blocks apart. One who visits the Hall cannot help but feel a surge of patriotism as he views the historic birthplace of America. And much the same feeling is with one at convention headquarters. For this is all of America together. The optimism, the spirit, and the elements of our future are all present in Philadelphia, at this historic Republican National convention.

Last Rites Today For W. L. Hacker

Survivors include his wife, Alice of Jacksonville; three daughters, Mrs. Julia Holt of Jacksonville, Mrs. Noia Clement and Mrs. Josie Mallicoat of Virginia, and one brother, George Hacker of Concord.

Survivors include his wife, the former Anna Frances Bradley. Dr. Bradley left this morning for Arizona.
